Primary school PE and school sport: new funding

Posted on November 3, 2014 by admin

November 2014:

1. A new tranche of funding has been announced (November 3rd 2014). Read the DfE press release here: "Primary schools receive fresh funding boost of over £150 million to improve PE lessons as part of the PE and sport premium." A typical primary school with 250 pupils will receive £9,000.
2. A research report 'PE and sport premium: an investigation in primary schools' was based on a survey of primary schools between April and July 2014. It looked at how headteachers have spent the money and the impact of that spending on schools.
3. Ofsted's report "The PE and sport premium for primary schools: good practice to maximise effective use of the funding" (17 Oct 2014) found that "in the majority of the schools visited, headteachers are using the additional funding to make improvements to PE and sport, including in competitions, for pupils. However, this survey has highlighted the need for clearer guidance to schools on how best to spend the funding and the importance of good specialist PE knowledge for teachers of the subject."

2013: This is from a briefing note to inspectors, on "Inspecting primary school PE and school sport: new funding" issued last year (2013). In particular, governors (and schools) should be aware that the use of the new primary sports funding will be considered when judging leadership and management.

The briefing note (version as published on 2nd September 2013) says:

Inspecting primary school PE and school sport: new funding

Background

1. In April 2013, the Government announced new funding of £150 million for physical education (PE) and sport. This funding should be used to improve the quality and breadth of PE and sport provision.
2. Funding will be allocated to all maintained and state-funded schools with primary phase pupils, including: primary, middle, special and non-maintained special schools, academies and pupil referral units from 1 September 2013. A typical primary school will receive about £9,250 annually in the academic years 2013/14 and 2014/15.
3. Schools are free to determine how best to use this funding to improve the quality and breadth of PE and sport provision, including increasing participation in PE and sport so that all pupils develop healthy lifestyles and reach the performance levels they are capable of. Examples of how this funding might be spent are set out in annex A.

Section 5 inspections of maintained schools and academies with primary-aged pupils

3 From 1 September 2013, inspectors will assess and report on how effectively this new funding is being used to improve PE and sport provision when making the judgement on the quality of the school's leadership and management.

4 Inspectors will use evidence gained from meetings with school leaders, including governors to assess the impact of additional funding on improving the quality and breadth of PE and sport provision. Inspectors may also use evidence from observations of lessons and/or extra-curricular sports clubs, and discussions with pupils. Inspectors may also review the details of a school's PE and sport provision on their school website prior to an inspection.

5 The School inspection handbook and Subsidiary guidance have been updated to include these changes.

6 Evidence gained from section 5 inspections from September 2013 will be collated and published on the Ofsted website. Ofsted will also survey selected schools and report in early autumn on the impact of the additional funding.

Further guidance

7 Ofsted's most recent physical education survey, Beyond 2012 – outstanding physical education for all identified a number of common weaknesses and set out a series of recommendations for the improvement of PE in primary schools.

8 Further guidance for schools, including case studies of good practice is available on the Department for Education website.
